The Australian Quality Framework Standards (AQF STANDARDS)

You are about to become a learner in the process that can result in achieving a nationally accredited qualification. These qualifications can only be delivered by a Registered Training Organisation (RTO).

To be a RTO, ASTC must ensure that it complies with the conditions of its registration throughout the period of its registration. These conditions are described within the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011.

As an RTO ASTC must comply with the VET Quality Framework, which includes:

- the Standards for Registered Training Organisations 2015
- the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF)

ASTC is audited by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) to ensure compliance to the above.

These standards and the auditing process are intended to provide the basis for a nationally consistent, high quality vocational education and training system. These standards are described in more detail in the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011, which basically confirms the right of ASQA to audit ASTC, apply penalties for non-compliance, define the requirements to retain records and other administration and operational requirements of a functioning RTO, etc.

Australian Salesmasters is RTO #6854.

Please refer to <http://www.asqa.gov.au/> for more information.

What is the Australian Qualifications Framework?

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) provides a national framework for all education and training qualifications in Australia. There are ten qualifications in the AQF. Six of these are relevant to the Vocational Education and Training (VET) sector. The ten qualifications are:

Schools Sector	Vocational Education and Training Sector	Higher Education Sector (Tertiary)
Senior Secondary Certificate of Education	Vocational Graduate Diploma Vocational Graduate Certificate Advanced Diploma Diploma Certificate IV Certificate III Certificate II Certificate I	Doctoral Degree Masters Degree Graduate Diploma Graduate Certificate Bachelor Degree Associate Degree Advanced Diploma Diploma

Information on the Characteristics of competencies and the Distinguishing Features of Learning Outcomes for qualifications under the AQF may be obtained at: www.aqf.edu.au.

For assistance to enrol into a Smart and Skilled program, please contact one of our Smart and Skilled enrolment officers on Ph: 1300 008 880.

Mode of Learning

ASTC offer the following learning modes

- Face to face
- eLearning
- Distance (Correspondence)
- Blended

With face to face training, there is a set schedule to follow with a fixed completion date.

With distance learning and e-learning, you set the pace for your learning activities. With these modes, you will achieve your desired result with good time management and self-motivation.

Blended mode combines the flexibility of online learning with the support of face-to-face training

The Training Plan

What is a Training Plan?

The training plan will outline who will deliver the training, and when and where you need to go to receive the structured component of the training. Treat the training plan as a working document. It should be flexible enough to meet all your needs. Remember that you can talk about this to your ASTC trainer or ASTC Administration at any stage during the training.

What is the purpose of a Training Plan?

The Training Plan provides detailed information on training and assessment agreed to by you, your employer (where applicable) and the ASTC. This information ensures that all parties are making informed decisions about the services required and the respective obligations in the delivery of these services. It is an important document that you, your employer (where applicable) and the ASTC must sign and provides a record of intent and progress during the learning process.

What are the requirements for monitoring a Training Plan?

The details of the Training Plan should be monitored and amended where required. For example, changes to time frames or to the person responsible for training or assessment should be amended on the Training Plan. The Training Plan should also provide evidence that training and assessment is progressing satisfactorily and regular visits have taken place.

What is to be included in the Training Plan

The training plan must specify the following:

- the competencies to be obtained
- the time-frame for achieving the competencies
- the training to be undertaken
- the delivery modes to be employed
- the details (when, how and how much) of the time allocated outside routine work duties is for off-the-job training
- who is responsible for the delivery and/or assessment of each competency
- assessment details and arrangements
- a record of any recognised prior learning (RPL) for qualifications and cross-credit hours granted prior to commencing the training. RPL involves the assessment of any existing relevant skills and/or qualifications. This crediting process can reduce the length or the duration of your training
- the name of the qualification to be issued
- any other specific requirements to be met in accordance with the training contract in question

Who signs the Training Plan?

The following individuals sign the training plan as confirmation that they contributed to the development of the plan and are aware of their responsibility to ensure that it is implemented and monitored.

- ASTC
- Learner/Apprentice/Trainee
- Employer (where applicable)

Induction

Once all Learners have completed the enrolment session they will complete an induction program which will cover:

- Introduction to the ASTC training team
- Confirmation of the course to be delivered
- The training and assessment procedures, including method, format and purpose of assessment
- Learner behaviour
- Qualifications to be issued
- Assistance with RPL process
- Assessment guidelines
- Payment for course
- Assessment completion
- Support services
- Complaints
- Appeals procedures
- Feedback
- Confirmation that all the above information was provided via face to face, DVD or other methods and handouts were distributed is required to be acknowledged by the training learner.

Language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) assistance

Our course standard material contains written documentation and limited numerical calculations.

We recognise that not all people are able to read, write and perform calculations to the same standards.

We aim always to provide a positive and rewarding learning experience for all its training learners. Our enrolment form asks training learners to provide information regarding their LL&N requirements or any other special learning needs. In the event of LL&N becoming an issue, the Student Support Officer will contact the training learners to discuss their requirements.

Training learners must ensure that they have discussed with the Student Support Officer any concerns they may have about their capacity to participate because of any Language, Literacy or Numeracy difficulties. We will offer to any training learner at enrolment a reading and comprehension exercise to ascertain suitability for enrolment into a course.

Where language, literacy and numeracy competency is essential for course training learners, we will make every effort to ensure that training learners are adequately supported to enable them to complete their training. Some examples of the type of support that we can offer include:

Literacy

- Providing training learners only essential writing tasks
- Consider the use of group exercises so that the responsibility for writing rests with more than one person
- Provide examples and models of completed tasks
- Ensure that documents and forms are written and formatted in plain English
- Use clear headings, highlight certain key words or phrases and provide explanations of all technical terms used

Language

- Present information in small chunks
- Speak clearly, concisely and not too quickly
- Give clear instructions in a logical sequence
- Give lots of practical examples
- Encourage training learners to ask questions
- Ask all questions to ensure training learners understand

Numeracy

- Ask training learners to identify in words, what the exact problem is and how they might solve it
- Show training learners how to do the calculations through step by step instructions and through examples of completed calculations

- Help training learners to work out what math's/calculations/measurements are required to complete the task
- Encourage the use of calculators and demonstrate how to use them

We will endeavour to help you where we can to accommodate anyone with difficulties with Language, Literacy or Numeracy.

In the event that a Learner's needs exceed our skill we will refer the Learner to an external support provider.

- Australian Council of Adult Literacy Ph: (03) 9469 2950
- Reading and Writing Hotline Ph: 1300 655 506

Learner support, welfare and guidance

We will assist all Learners in their efforts to complete our training programmes.

In the event that you are experiencing any difficulties with your studies we would recommend that you see your trainer, or another member of ASTC's team.

We will ensure that the full resources of our RTO are made available to ensure that you achieve the required level of competency in all nationally recognised qualifications.

Should you be experiencing any personal difficulties you should make contact directly with the ASTC's Student Support Officer who will assist you to the full extent of our capacity.

If your needs exceed ASTC's support capacity we will refer you onto an appropriate external agency.

Flexible delivery and assessment procedures

ASTC recognises that not all Learners learn in the same manner, and that with an amount of "reasonable adjustment" Learners who may not learn best with traditional learning and assessment methods will still achieve good results.

ASTC will make any necessary adjustments to meet the needs of a variety of Learners. The ability to complete a written assessment is not to be interpreted as a barrier to competency, provided that the Learner can verbally demonstrate competency.

These adjustments may include having someone read assessment materials to Learners or they may include having someone record the Learner's spoken responses to assessment questions.

ASTC undertakes to assist Learners achieve the required competency standards where it is within our ability.

Where we cannot assist a Learner, we will refer them, where possible, to an agency that can assist.

Any further questions can be referred to your trainer or ASTC's Student Support Officer.

Discipline in a classroom setting

ASTC attempts to provide training and assessment services in a spirit of co-operation and mutual respect.

If a trainer or team member is unhappy or dissatisfied with the behaviour or performance of a Learner the trainer has the authority to:

- Warn the Learner that their behaviour is unsuitable, or
- Ask a Learner to leave the class, or
- Immediately cancel the class.

If a Learner wishes to express a complaint in relation to the disciplinary action taken, they have the opportunity to follow our complaints procedure.

Examples of when disciplinary action may be required to be taken include when a Learner:

- fails to attend the required minimum number of classes for any course without reasonable explanation
- brings onto, or consumes on our premises, any drug of addiction or dependence (except drugs prescribed by a qualified medical practitioner)
- brings onto or consumes on our premises any alcohol
- exhibits any form of behaviour that is adversely affected by the influence of drugs or alcohol
- damages or removes any property or resource of or any training venue hired by ASTC
- assaults (physically or verbally) any person or persons on the premises of or any training venue hired by ASTC
- fails to comply with any instructions given by a member of team relating to the safety of any person or persons on the premises
- exhibits any form of conduct within our premises that is considered to be aggressive, disorderly, disruptive, harassing or interferes with the comfort, safety or convenience of any person who is acting lawfully and entitled to be present
- colludes, plagiarises or cheats in assignments, assessments or examinations which may be detected from non-referencing of source materials, collusion with other Learners in the submission of assessment materials or by reference to the resources detailed on the ASQA Guideline Frequently asked question document
- breaches assessment guidelines
- enters any part of our premises or any other place to which Learners have access for the purpose of tuition, when not entitled to do so, or having entered, refuses to leave said premises

Fee Paying Learner

When disciplinary action is taken, the Chief Executive Officer will notify the Learner of the reason for the action.

- A verbal warning will be given to the Learner and documented on the Learner's individual file
- Where the behaviour continues after the verbal warning, the Chief Executive Officer will counsel the Learner and a written warning will be provided to the Learner. A copy of this written warning will be kept on the Learner's file.
- Where disciplinary action is the result of collusion, plagiarism, cheating or a breach of assessment guidelines, in addition to the above, the Learner will be requested to resubmit their work
- In the event that the behaviour continues beyond the written warning, the Learner will be removed from the training program. Notification of the Learner's removal will be made in writing and a noted copy will be placed on the Learner's individual file.

Traineeship

When disciplinary action is taken, the Chief Executive Officer will notify the Employer and the Learner of the reason for the action

- A verbal warning will be given to the Learner and documented on the Learner's individual file.
- Where the behaviour continues after the verbal warning, the Chief Executive Officer will counsel the Learner and a written warning will be provided to the Learner and a copy provided to the Employer. A copy of this written warning will be kept on the Learner's file.
- Where disciplinary action is the result of collusion, plagiarism, cheating or a breach of assessment guidelines, in addition to the above, the Learner will be requested to resubmit their work
- In the event that the behaviour continues beyond the written warning, the Learner will be removed from the training program. Notification of the Learner's removal will be made in writing to the Learner and a copy provided to the Employer and a noted copy will be placed on the Learner's individual file.

If a Learner wishes to express a complaint in relation to the disciplinary action taken, they have the opportunity to follow our complaints procedure.

We expect that our team will maintain a professional and ethical working relationship with all other team, management and Learners. Any breach of our disciplinary standards will be discussed with the trainer, ASTC's Student Support Officer and CEO and the appropriate action will be taken.

Recognition of other Qualifications/ Prior learning

National recognition

We accept and recognise the outcomes of training from any other RTO or body in partnership with an RTO throughout Australia, thereby ensuring acceptance of the qualifications and statements of attainment awarded by all RTOs.

National Recognition requires ASTC to recognise and accept Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) qualifications conferred by other registered training organisations.

Your previous study will be recognised and automatically credited towards their course where the same or equivalent units of competence have been successfully completed.

Procedure:

- Complete a separate application form for National Recognition available upon request
- Submit the application form AND a certified copy of an appropriate statement of attainment from another RTO.

Recognition of prior learning (RPL) policy

All of our potential or enrolled Learners are provided with full recognition of their current skills and knowledge. We promote acknowledgement of 'non-traditional' forms of learning as valid pathways for recognition of competency achievement during the RPL assessment process. The recognition of prior learning [RPL] process conducted by us is an assessment process, which provides acknowledgement of all skills and knowledge gained through life experiences, work experience, previous training and formal education.

Our RPL process examines the evidence within the following key principles:

- Adopting a focus on the competencies held, rather than on how, when or where the learning occurred
- Demonstrated commitment to recognising the prior learning of adults.
- Providing access to the RPL process for all potential Learners of course.
- Undertaking RPL processes which are fair to all those involved.
- Providing adequate support for all potential RPL applicants.

The RPL assessment process includes the initial provision of information, support and counselling, formal application, assessment, post-assessment guidance and certification for course Learners. All Learners are offered RPL at time of the pre-enrolment contact and can elect to be considered for RPL by selecting the option available on the enrolment form. The special needs of RPL applicants are recognised by us and we will make all the necessary and reasonable adjustments [taking into account such areas as LL&N] during the RPL assessment process, where appropriate. A variety of RPL assessment options will be available for potential applicants to identify whether they have achieved standard in the relevant national training program. All assessment mechanisms used are valid, reliable, flexible and fair and conducted in an ethical manner.

The key objectives of our RPL assessment process are to:

- Minimise duplication of learning, training or skill acquisition
- Allow the completion of studies in the shortest possible time
- Provide clear RPL outcomes and access to further learning/training and career development
- Provide quality advice and support to potential and current applicants
- Conduct the RPL process only in respect to courses that we are registered to assess
- Ensure that only fully qualified consultants are involved in the RPL process
- Provide adequate information and support to enable applicants to gather reliable evidence to support their claim for recognition of competencies currently held regardless of how, when or where they were learned
- Recognise competencies and modules gained through an RPL process conducted at another registered training organisation via the requirements of recognition of other qualifications
- Ensure the RPL applicants of their right of appeal through the formal process
- Ensure fees and charges are fair, competitive with the industry standard and are structured to minimise the time and cost to applicants.

Learners can make an application for Recognition of Prior Learning at any time during the training program.

Procedure:

1. The applicant fills in the application for recognition of prior learning (exemption), as detailed in the RPL application kit.
2. Attached to the application should be
 - a. Certified copies of the relevant qualifications, transcripts, course outlines and other academic records including the title of the module, duration (hours) of learning, results (marks and grades).
 - b. Evidence of clinical practice, as mentioned above, if exemption is sought.
 - c. Applications without presenting the relevant qualifications will not be recognized.
3. ASTC reserves the right to check and identify the original qualifications and academic records. Usually, ASTC's Student Support Officer will interview the applicant and verify the authenticity of original documents.
4. The module(s) exemption application is finally approved by the CEO and/or the ASTC Board. The following fees apply:

Under a traineeship	Nil
Fee for service	$100
Payment of administrative application fee
Charged when unit(s) exemption application is finally approved by the CEO and/or the ASTC Academic Committee and a fee per module approved will apply
Certificate II, III, IV	$150
Diploma, Advanced Diploma	$250

5. The Applicant will be required to "sign off" on the approval of recognition of prior learning or disapproval from the original form will be placed on the applicant's file and a copy given to the applicant.

An RPL application kit is available upon application and from our website.

Credit transfer policy

Credit Transfer is available to all Learners enrolling in any of our training programs on our scope of registration.

Credit Transfer – means credit towards a qualification granted to the Learners on the basis of outcomes gained by a Learner through participation in courses or nationally training package qualifications with another Registered Training Provider. Credit transfer applies when credit can be given for formal learning equivalent to the competency outcomes. This may include credit transfer based on formal learning that is outside the AQF. We recognise the AQF qualifications and statements of attainment issued by any other RTOs. Credit Transfer will only be granted for an entire unit of competency, not for individual elements of competency.

The procedure to make a Credit transfer application is as follows:

- Learner completes a separate application form
- Learner submits the application form AND supporting documentary evidence
- The Application and supporting documentation will then be determined by the Director of Studies (or delegated assessor)
- the Training Manager (or delegated assessor) compares the evidence against the unit of competency (may ask for interview to clarify some points)
- the Training Manager (or delegated assessor) makes a judgement and records it on the application
- the Training Manager returns application to RTO administration with result
- RTO administration records result against Learner's name
- RTO administration notifies Learner of result either by email or post to their recorded home address
- Learner may appeal within 30 days of notification. Please refer to Complaints and Appeals Procedure

Supporting documentation

If your previous study was a program at ASTC, you do not need to submit any supporting documentation. If your previous study was undertaken with another institution you must submit documentation to support your application. This documentation may include:

- a certified copy of a Statement of Attainment for any completed VET studies
- course outlines showing content, learning outcomes and assessment requirements
- an explanation of the grading structure used.

Assessment process

ASTC will assess all applications for credit transfer for relevance towards the ASTC program and the currency of the learning outcomes:

- Relevance
- To receive credit for a previously completed course that course must be equivalent in content, learning outcomes and assessment requirements to the course you wish to receive credit for.
- Currency
- ASTC will assess your previous study for its currency to determine if the body of knowledge and practice has changed significantly. If the course content has changed significantly and the learner has not maintained sustained practice in the field of study, your application may be rejected.

The Assessor

- compares the evidence against the unit of competency (may ask for interview to clarify some points)
- Assessor makes a judgement and records it on the application
- returns application to RTO administration with result

RTO administration

- records result against your name
- notifies you of the result either by email or post to your recorded home address You may appeal within 30 days of notification.

Please refer to Assessment Appeals A Credit Transfer Application template is available upon request.

Fees

No fees are applied to Credit Transfer

Plagiarism and cheating policy

How do I ensure my own Academic Integrity?

You can achieve Academic Integrity by honestly submitting work that is your own. Presenting work that fails to acknowledge other people's work within yours can compromise Academic Integrity.

This includes:

- plagiarism
- cheating in an assessment
- copying or submitting whole or parts of computer files as if they are your own (e.g. web pages).

Collusion, plagiarism or cheating in assignments will not be tolerated. Your trainer will advise all Learners of the many different ways to avoid plagiarism.

It is a form of cheating, known as plagiarism, to use another's work without appropriate acknowledgment.

All work produced must acknowledge the sources of ideas presented and cite the original written work which informed it. Plagiarism may occur in oral, written or visual presentations. It is the presentation of the work, idea or creation of another person, without appropriate referencing, as though it is your own. It is also a disciplinary offence for you to allow your work to be plagiarised by another training learner. You are responsible for keeping your work in a secure place.

Plagiarism covers a variety of inappropriate behaviours, including:

- failure to properly document a source
- copying material from the internet or databases
- collusion between training learners
- purchasing pre-written or on-demand papers from the numerous paper mills and cheat sites

You must reference the following types of information:

- thoughts, ideas, definitions or theories
- research and other studies
- statistics
- information from the Internet, including images and media
- designs or works of art
- facts that are not common knowledge

If you don't reference information in your work, it is assumed that:

- it's your own idea
- it's common knowledge, e.g. you wouldn't need to reference that Bendigo is in Victoria
- it's common knowledge in your field of work, e.g. you must have a forklift licence to drive a forklift.

To maintain Academic Integrity:

- Make sure you understand how to reference your sources.
- Don't leave your assignments around for others to read.
- Make sure you take your discs out of the computers.
- When photocopying or making notes from texts, make sure you record all bibliographic information.
- Make sure your work clearly distinguishes between the ideas of others and your own ideas. If you're not sure how to do this, check with your Trainer about requirements for referencing.

Learners must not:

- submit an assessment completed by another person as their own work
- present as their own work information, text, artwork, graphics or other material taken from any source without referencing
- quote or paraphrase material from a source without referencing

Detection of Plagiarism

The following may be utilized to detect plagiarism:

- Unusual phrasings, noticeable unevenness of style (some very sophisticated sentences followed by some amateurish ones), concepts that seem too sophisticated for the level of the class, unclear or incorrect sources listed in the bibliography, a writing style or diction choice in a particular paper that seems inconsistent with that found in other samples of the Learner's writing
- Enter an unusual phrase or sentence into a standard search engine (e.g., Google, Yahoo) and to locate a match.
- Holding a conference with the Learner writer and discuss the paper to determine the Learner's familiarity with his/her own paper and its concepts

Copyright

All ASTC team members and learners must observe the following copyright regulations, a copy of which is on display near the photocopier in our Head Office.

A copyright owner is entitled to take legal action against a person who infringes his/her copyright. Unless otherwise permitted by the Copyright Act 1968, unauthorised copying of a work in which copyright subsides may infringe the copyright in that work.

Where making a copy of a work is classed as fair dealing under section 40 of the Copyright Act 1968, making that copy is not an infringement of the copyright in that work.

It is classed as fair dealing to make a copy, for the purpose of research or study, of one or more articles on the same subject matter in a periodical publication or, in the case of any other work, of a reasonable portion of a work.

In the case of a published work that is of not less than 10 pages and is not an artistic work, 10% of the total number of pages, or one chapter, is a reasonable portion.

More extensive copying may constitute fair dealing for the purpose of research or study. To determine whether it does, it is necessary to have regard to the criteria set out in sub-section 40 (2) of the Copyright Act 1968.

A copy of the Copyright Act 1968 is available for viewing upon request to the Student Support Officer.

Client complaints and appeals policy

ASTC will deal with any learner complaints in an effective and timely manner, typically resolving all complaints within three weeks.

- Each appeal and complaint and its outcomes will be recorded in writing in a Complaints Register.
- Each appeal and complaint can be heard by an independent person or panel (i.e. someone or some panel that is mutually agreed upon as independent)
- Each appellant and complainant:
 - Has the opportunity to formally present his or her case
 - Is given a written statement of the appeals or complaint outcomes, including reasons for the decision.
- We will act upon any substantiated complaint or appeal and these may result in a Continuous Improvement activity within ASTC.

All appeals and complaints are reviewed at our monthly management meetings and, if appropriate, will result in a continuous improvements activity.

Complaints and appeals procedure

Complaint

A complaint should first be lodged with ASTC administration within 30 days of the issue arising, where practicable. A Complaints Form is available from ASTC Administration upon request and may be downloaded from our website.

A written response will be provided within 21 working days.

Where the outcome is not satisfactory to the learner, the Student Support Officer should be contacted in writing (mail/email) by the learner, setting out:

- The circumstances surrounding the issue
- Who was involved
- Why a complaint is being lodged
- Any evidence including dates and documentation
- The name of any witnesses who could support the case

The Training Learner Support Officer will table the complaint at the next scheduled Board of Directors Meeting and the Learner will be notified in writing of the outcome.

Assessment appeals

An application for appeal will be considered where:

- A Learner claims a disadvantage because the Trainer did not provide a unit outline and assessment scheme
- A Learner claims disadvantage because the Trainer varied without consultation or in an unreasonable way the assessment requirements as specified in the unit outline and assessment scheme
- A Learner claims disadvantage because assessment requirements specified by the assessment scheme were unreasonably or prejudicially applied to him or her
- A Learner is of the view that a clerical error has occurred in the documenting of the assessment outcome
- A Learner claims that there is a discrepancy between the practical observation and the formal assessment.

Where appropriate the Learner should first approach the assessor concerned within 30 days of receiving the assessment result, where practicable.

Where the outcome is not satisfactory to the Learner, the Training Learner Support Officer should be contacted in writing (mail/email) by the Learner, setting out:

- The circumstances surrounding the issue
- Who was involved
- Why an appeal is being lodged
- Any evidence including dates and documentation
- The name of any witnesses who could support the appeal

An Appeal Form is available from ASTC Administration upon request and may be downloaded from our website.

The Board of Directors will consider the appeal and the Learner will be notified in writing of the outcome and the reason for the decision.

If the Learner is not satisfied with the outcome, the appeal will be referred to an independent person, who is agreed to by both parties, and the Learner will have an opportunity to formally present their case.

Record keeping and confidentiality

Records of all academic grievances handled under this procedure and their outcomes shall be maintained for a period of at least 5 years to allow all parties to the grievance appropriate access to these records, upon written request to the Compliance Officer (or delegated nominee).

All records relating to complaints will be treated as confidential and will be covered by the Privacy Policy and Procedure.

Complaint / Appeal Third Party Referral

If the Complainant / Appellant is not satisfied with the outcome of their appeal then an independent mediator will be sourced by ASTC through LEADR, the association of Dispute Resolvers. Complainants may request that their grievance is referred to the independent mediator by writing to the CEO as ASTC, PO Box 638, Rosebery, NSW 1445.

Cost of such mediation will be shared equally by ASTC and the Complainant. As a guide mediator's cost would be $385 for the first four hours (or part thereof). Subsequent hours would be $137.50 per hour. It is common for most disputes to be resolved within the initial four hour allocation.

If the Complainant remains unsatisfied with the outcome of the mediator's decision, then they may contact the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA). For Contact details and information please see: <http://www.asqa.gov.au/complaints/making-a-complaint.html>.

ASTC will give due consideration to any recommendations arising from the external review of the grievance within 30 days of receipt of the recommendations.

Legislative requirements

We are subject to a variety of legislation related to training and assessment as well as general business practice.

This legislation governs our obligations as a Registered Training Organisation, our obligations to you as our clients, and relates to the industry that we are conducting training for.

This legislation is continually being updated and all our team are made aware of any changes.

Workplace health and safety policy

Work Health and Safety (formerly Occupational Health and Safety) describes ASTC's duty of care to provide a safe and healthy working environment for all employees, and the employee's duty of care to take reasonable care for the health and safety of others within the work place. This includes the provision of:

- a workplace that is safe to work in, with working procedures that are safe to use,
- adequate team training including topics such as safe work procedures,
- properly maintained facilities and equipment,
- a clean and suitably designed work place with the safe storage of goods such as chemicals.

The following procedures and standards must be observed to achieve a safe working and learning environment:

- Maintain a safe, clean and efficient, working environment,
- Implement procedures and practices, in a variety of situation, in accordance with State and Local Government Health regulations,
- Store and dispose of waste according to health regulations,
- Clean walls, floor and working surfaces to meet health and safety standards without causing damage,

- Check all equipment for maintenance requirements,
- Refer equipment for repair as required,
- Store equipment safely,
- Identify fire hazards and take precautions to prevent fire,
- Safe lifting and carrying techniques maintained,
- Ensure Learner safety at all times,
- Ensure procedures for operator safety are followed at all times,
- All unsafe situations recognised and reported,
- Display first aid and safety procedures for all team and Learners to see,
- Promote an environment that is drug and alcohol free
- Report any identified Work Health and Safety hazard to the appropriate team member as required. Fact sheets may be obtained at: <http://www.workcover.nsw.gov.au/>

Harassment and anti-discrimination policy

ASTC strictly adheres to the Anti-Discrimination and Equal Employment Opportunity, as set out in the Legislation. Copies of the Legislation are available on the Internet and from the Administration Office.

ASTC has a legal obligation to ensure that no member of its team or a Learner is discriminated upon on the grounds of race (colour, ethnic origin or nationality), gender, age, disability, marital status or sexual orientation. Harassment on the grounds of race or sex will not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action.

At ASTC, everyone, regardless of whether they are a Learner, lecturer, administration or support team, is entitled to expect the same rights. These rights are listed below:

- The right to learn, teach or carry out their duties
- The right to be treated with respect and treated fairly
- The right to be safe in the workplace emotionally and physically
- The right to have all reports of harassment and discrimination to be treated seriously, impartially and sensitively. Harassment and discrimination, including victimisation and bullying, is unwelcome, uninvited and unacceptable behaviour that will not be tolerated.
- The right to inform management of any harassment or discrimination. Management has the responsibility to take immediate and appropriate action to address it.
- The right to when dealing with all complaints, the rights of all individuals should be respected and confidentiality maintained.
- The right to whenever possible, all complaints should be resolved by a process of discussion, cooperation and conciliation.
- Both the person making the complaint, and the person against whom the complaint has been made, has the right to receive information, support and assistance in resolving the issue.

Learners have the responsibility to:

- Allow others to learn
- Make ASTC safe by not threatening, bullying or hurting others in any way
- Make the classroom safe by obeying instructions
- Make ASTC safe by not bringing illegal substances or weapons into ASTC
- Not steal, damage or destroy the goods of others

Team and Learners should be aware of the following definitions:

‘Bullying’ - is unwelcome and offensive behaviour that intimidates, humiliates and/or undermines a person or group. Bullying involves a persistent pattern of behaviour over a period time and may include verbal abuse, physical assault, unjustified criticism, sarcasm, insult, spreading false or malicious rumours about someone, isolating or ignoring a person, putting people under unnecessary pressure with overwork or impossible deadlines, and sabotaging someone's work or their ability to do their job by not providing them with vital information and resources.

'Confidentiality' - refers to information kept in trust and divulged only to those who need to know.

'Discrimination' - is treating someone unfairly or unequally simply because they belong to a group or category of people. Equal opportunity laws prohibit discrimination on the grounds of sex, marital status, pregnancy, family responsibility, family status, race, religious beliefs, political conviction, gender history, impairment, age or sexual orientation. Victimisation is also treated as another ground of discrimination.

'Harassment' - is any unwelcome and uninvited comment or action that results in a person being intimidated, offended, humiliated or embarrassed. Equal opportunity laws prohibit harassment on the grounds of sex and race.

'Personnel' - refers to all employees of ASTC.

'Racial Harassment' - occurs when a person is threatened, abused, insulted or taunted in relation to their race, descent or nationality, colour, language or ethnic origin, or a racial characteristic. It may include derogatory remarks, innuendo and slur, intolerance, mimicry or mockery, displays of material prejudicial to a particular race, racial jokes, allocating least favourable jobs or singling out for unfair treatment.

'Sexual Harassment' - is any verbal or physical sexual conduct that is unwelcome and uninvited. It may include kissing, embracing, patting, pinching, touching, leering or gestures, questions about a person's private or sexual life, requests for sexual favours, smutty jokes, phone calls, emails, facsimiles or messages, offensive noises or displays of sexually graphic or suggestive material.

'Victimisation' - includes any unfavourable treatment of a person as a result of their involvement in an equal opportunity complaint. Unfavourable treatment could include: adverse changes to the work environment; denial of access to resources or work.

Specific principles

- All team members and Learners have a right to work in an environment free of any form of harassment and discrimination,
- All reports of harassment and discrimination will be treated seriously, impartially and sensitively. Harassment and discrimination, including victimisation and bullying, is unwelcome, uninvited and unacceptable behaviour that will not be tolerated,
- When management is informed of any harassment or discrimination it has the responsibility to take immediate and appropriate action to address it,
- In dealing with all complaints, the rights of all individuals should be respected and confidentiality maintained,
- Whenever possible, all complaints should be resolved by a process of discussion, cooperation and conciliation. The aim is to achieve an acceptable outcome while minimising any potential damage to our organisation,
- Both the person making the complaint, and the person against whom the complaint has been made, will receive information, support and assistance in resolving the issue,
- Victimisation is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. No person making a complaint, or assisting in the investigation of a complaint, should be victimised,
- Harassment or discrimination should not be confused with legitimate comment and advice (including feedback) given appropriately by management or trainers,
- Team members and Learners should not make any frivolous or malicious complaints. All team and Learners are expected to participate in the complaint resolution process in good faith.

Further information may be gained by accessing the publications located on the Anti-Discrimination Board of NSW website:

Privacy policy

ASTC takes the privacy of our Learners very seriously and we will comply with all legislative requirements.

These include the Privacy Act 1988 and National Privacy Principles (2013).

If your learning is a traineeship your enrolment form provides for Learners to give permission for us to discuss your progress with your employer

In some cases we will be required by law or required by the AQF standards to make Learner information available to others. In all other cases we ensure that we will seek the written permission of the Learner.

13 Australian Privacy Principles

1. open and transparent management of personal information
2. anonymity and pseudonymity
3. collection of solicited personal information
4. dealing with unsolicited personal information
5. notification of the collection of personal information
6. use or disclosure of personal information
7. direct marketing
8. cross-border disclosure of personal information
9. adoption, use or disclosure of government related identifiers
10. quality of personal information
11. security of personal information
12. access to personal information
13. correction of personal information

More information about the Australian Privacy Principles can be found at:
<http://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-act/australian-privacy-principles>

Government funded training policy

ASTC delivers government funded training programs and we will ensure that we comply with the guidelines and policies issued by the relevant Commonwealth, State or Territory regulator and/or funder responsible for these programs

These guidelines and policies define our obligations to comply with requirements for funding of the relevant nationally accredited funded programs, including our reporting and other obligations.

Working with children policy

As we accept people under the age of 18 in our training programs, we comply with all Federal and State Working with Children legislation such as the NSW Commission for Children and Young People Act 1998. A list of all relevant legislation is available

<http://www.aifs.gov.au/cfca/pubs/factsheets/a141887/>

Further information on the Working with Children's Check is available from our Compliance Manager. This effectively means, that all staff who come in contact with people under the age of 18, such as trainers, must be cleared as not being a risk to the health and safety of minors.

This is done through a submission to the appropriate government agency <https://check.kids.nsw.gov.au>, and until the response is received, we cannot allow the person being reviewed to conduct or interact with the minors unsupervised.

Fees and refund policy

Fee Paying Learners

ASTC may charge fees in advance of the commencement of training of up to $1,500. Please refer below for information regarding fees and fee invoicing.

A pro rata refund will be paid if ASTC defaults on the occurrence:

- a course stops being provided after it starts and before it is completed or
- if a course is not provided fully to the Learner because ASTC has had a sanction imposed by either ASQA or DEEWR.

We will provide all Learners with a statement that explains how the refund amount has been calculated.

Traineeship... New Entrants

ASTC does not charge any fees in advance of the commencement of training. A training employer will receive an invoice in the sixth month of commencement of training with regard to traineeship delivery.

If a Learner withdraws from a course at any time after the commencement date of the course, No Refund will be made.

Traineeship... Existing Workers

A training employer will receive an invoice on completion of the course.

A refund will be paid if ASTC defaults on the occurrence:

- a course stops being provided after it starts and before it is completed, or
- if a course is not provided fully to the Learner because ASTC has had a sanction imposed by either ASQA or DEEWR under either and/or the AQF.

We will provide all training employers with a statement that explains how the refund amount has been calculated.

VET FEE-HELP Refund Policy

In the event of a student withdrawing from a VET unit of study on or before the census date for that unit of study:

- 100% of tuition fees paid for that unit will be refunded to the student; and
- the student will not incur a VET FEE-HELP debt.

In the event of a student withdrawing from a VET unit of study after census date for that unit of study:

- no refund is applicable; and/or
- the student will incur a VET FEE-HELP debt.

For more detailed information please refer to the VET FEE HELP HOW TOs page on our website

Smart and Skilled

Smart and Skilled student fees are set for the whole qualification, rather than year-by-year, regardless of how long it takes to complete your qualification. Your student fee covers the cost of all training and assessment.

Under Smart and Skilled, students contribute towards the cost of their training through the payment of a student fee and the balance is paid as a subsidy from the government.

The Schedule of Fees for each qualification on the NSW Skills List can be accessed at www.training.nsw.gov.au/smartandskilled/prices_fees.html

ASTC must charge the student the relevant fee set by the NSW Government.

ASTC will confirm what the Student Fee is once we have entered your data into the Smart and Skilled Provider Calculator.

Should a Smart and Skilled learner wish to withdraw prior to course commencement (the 'cut-off date') they will receive a full refund for any payment they have already made.

Should a Smart and Skilled learner withdraw after the course has commenced the fees paid will be calculated pro rata and any refund owing will be refunded.

Further information may be accessed on our website:

OR

From the NSW Smart and Skilled website: <https://smartandskilled.nsw.gov.au/for-students/how-much-will-your-course-cost>

Fee Base

Training and assessment fees for both fee paying and government funded are calculated in accordance with the Commonwealth and/ or State Government incentives which may vary and change from time to time depending on government policy,

Issue of testamur (qualification)

- Testamurs are system generated protected documents, produced to an authorised template including AQF certification documentation and is issued to a learner. Amendments or the addition or deletion of details from a testamur is not allowed except where demonstrably incorrect information is presented on the document.
- Testamurs will be produced and issued within 30 days of the learner being assessed as meeting the requirements of the training product if the training program in which the learner is enrolled is complete, and providing all agreed fees the learner owes to the RTO have been paid.
- Multiple copies will not be provided. Replacements will only be made available where the original has been permanently lost, damaged or destroyed. Any replacement testamur will be issued in the format current at the time of replacement or reissue and will state the current date of printing as well as the original date of conferral. As a consequence, signatories to the replacement testamur may be different from those on the original testamur.

If ASTC has closed, or you have lost your original copy, ASQA may be able to provide a replacement.

Before you apply for a copy of your student records, please be aware that:

- Since July 2011, all registered training organisations (RTOs) that close are required to provide ASQA with a record of all qualifications and statements of attainment issued to students
- Some state and territory regulators opening before July 2011 did not collect records from closed providers, so ASQA may not have these records
- If ASQA holds your provider’s records-but not a record of your qualification or statement of attainment-ASQA can provide you with a letter, which includes a verified record of your assessment results. You may then use this record to apply to an RTO for an assessment of your eligibility to receive a statement of attainment or a qualification
- There is a $60 fee for the return of your records

ASQA-issued certificates and statements of attainment

In exceptional circumstances, ASQA may issue a vocational education and training (VET) qualification or statement of attainment to a current or former VET student.

Exceptional circumstances may include when a former student has changed their identity because of witness protection or fleeing domestic violence. A statutory declaration regarding exceptional circumstances will be required.

ASQA will only issue a certificate or statement of attainment if satisfied you have successfully completed the qualification’s requirements or units of competency. For more information, please visit: <http://www.asqa.gov.au/for-students/applying-for-a-copy-of-student-records.html>

The following fees may be applied:

Training and assessment Under a traineeship - up to $4,000 (incl.GST)

* Items marked as “Not Ascertainable” are regarded as such due to the significant variations in place for individual training learners and individual enrolments. For those items marked as “Not Ascertainable” the training learner may request a written quote prior to the provision of the services and will not be held liable for these services until they receive a written quote.

Fee Invoicing

Fees will be invoiced at:

- i. the expiration of three (3) months from the date the training plan has been finalised for those units completed, and
- ii. the balance of fees upon the expiration of fourteen days from the date of completion or
- iii. fees for units completed prior to withdrawal, cancellation or transfer excluding (i) above

Learner training records policy

We are committed to maintaining and safeguarding the accuracy, integrity and currency of our records without jeopardising the confidentiality of the records or our Learner’s privacy. Individual Learner training records will be stored in a locked secure office area. Our electronic records are stored in “VETtrak” and are protected by password access. We further protect our records by maintaining up to date virus, firewall and spyware protection software.

The Compliance Officer will undertake a validation of the training records of approximately 10% of registered trainees and report the accuracy to the CEO.

The ASTC Compliance Officer is responsible to conducting a weekly back up of our computer systems to a password protected external hard drive. This backup is then taken offsite.

Our software and hardcopy systems will retain Learner results for a period of not less than 30 years.

In the event that we cease to operate as a RTO we will transfer all records to ASQA in appropriate format and detail as specified by ASQA at the time of ceasing RTO operations.

All other records including, training records, taxation records, business and commercial records will be retained for a period of at least seven years.

Should we be required to submit statistical data on our Learners in the future (AVETMISS), we will use the features inside our VETtrak software program.

We will ensure that any confidential information acquired by us, individuals or committees or organisations acting upon our behalf is safeguarded.

Access to individual Learner training records will be limited to those required by the AQF such as:

- trainers and assessors to access and update the records of the Learners whom they are working with,
- management team as required to ensure the smooth and efficient operation of the business,
- Officers from the a Commonwealth, State or Territory body responsible for regulating and/or funding of traineeships, ASQA, VRQA or their representatives for activities required under the Standards for Registered Training Organisations,
- Employer if the Learner is a trainee

Or those required by law such as:

- People as are permitted by law to access these records (e.g. subpoena/ search warrants/ social service benefits / evidence act). Or
- L earners authorising releases of specific information to third parties in writing,
- The Learner themselves, after making application in writing. For example Learners seeking a replacement Qualification or Statement of Attainment.
- Reference: Testamur Reissue Application Form

At any time you may access your records of participation and progress. This can be ascertained in the following ways:

- You are able to ring ASTC on Ph: 1300 008 880 and receive a copy of completed competencies which will be emailed to you within 2 working days.
- Written request to ASTC
- Refer to your Training Plan
- Reference: Testamur Reissue Application Form

Access and equity policy

We are committed to ensuring that we offer training opportunities to all people on an equal and fair basis, including women where under-represented, people with disabilities, people from non-English speaking backgrounds, Indigenous Australians, and rural and remote Learners.

All Learners have equal access to our training programs irrespective of their gender, culture, linguistic background, race, socioeconomic background; disability, age, marital status, pregnancy, sexual orientation or carer's responsibilities.

All Learners who met the entry requirements [if applicable] as prescribed by the appropriate National Training Package will be accepted into any program within our scope of registration.

Some examples of our support include:

- We are able to offer Language and Literacy support to Learners who have difficulty with written or spoken English
- Equally so, we are able to support Learners with numeracy issues.
- As the qualifications are largely self-paced we are able to accommodate the unique needs of expectant or new parents or Learners with other carer's responsibilities
- The ability to modify learning and assessment tasks to accommodate the unique cultural or personal needs of Learners

The principles of Access and Equity are covered at our Learner induction and regularly reviewed to ensure the correct interpretation and application.

Where our training programs have a limited number of available places, these will be filled in order of completed enrolment applications.

Any issues or questions regarding access and equity can be directed to ASTC's Student Support Officer.

Training packages

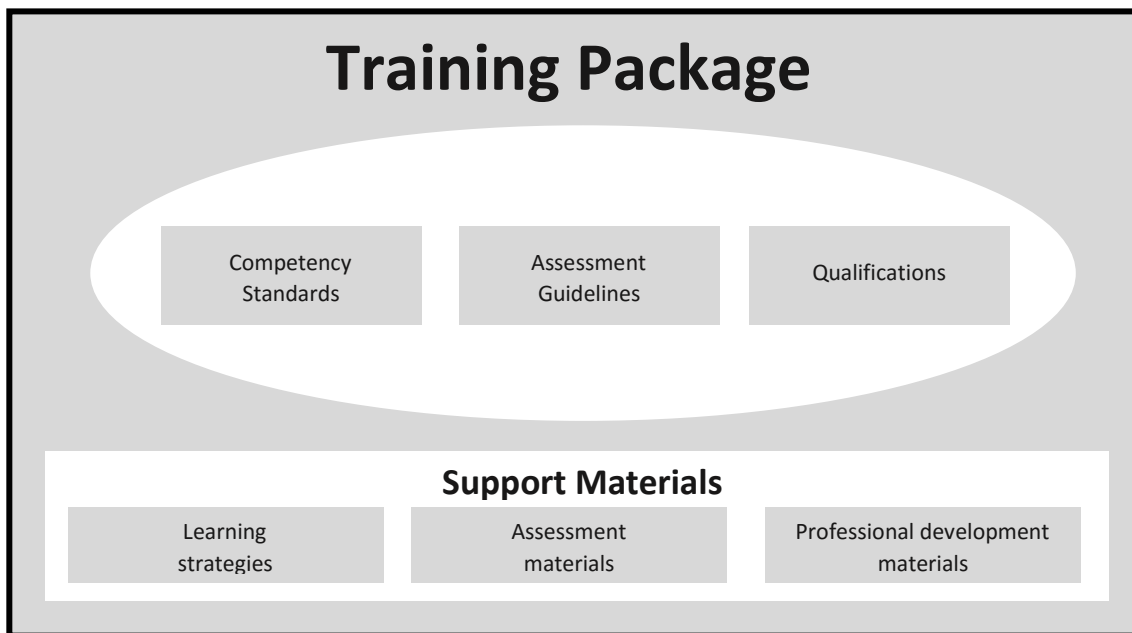

The term 'Training Package' may be confusing. Most people think of a Training Package as something they pick off a shelf and use in their training. It is not!

Under the Australian National Training System, a Training Package is something different and quite specific. The Business Services

Training Package is one of many industry Training Packages to be nationally endorsed by the Australian National Training Authority (ANTA).

A Training Packages consists of:

- endorsed components and
- support materials

Endorsed Components

These are competency standards, assessment guidelines and packaging rules for national industry qualifications.

Competency Standards

Competency standards are statements describing the skills or knowledge required to undertake the work involved in being a competent employee within your chosen industry. They are organised according to industry functions which are performed by, for example a salesperson selling products/ services.

Not only do they describe the skills and knowledge, but also the standard of performance required to be competent.

Industry practitioners, within input from industry relevant Institutes and regulators, decided what went into the competency standards.

Delivery Strategy

The unit will provide for delivery in a variety of modes, including:

- Self-paced delivery
- Classroom delivery
- Workplace experience
- Simulated workplace delivery

Delivery strategies should be selected to reflect the nature of the learning outcomes and to meet the needs of the Learner.

The learning environment, activities, case studies, learning materials and assessment should simulate workplace situations.

The length of time required for delivery may vary depending on factors such as the knowledge and skills of the Learner on entry and whether the delivery of the unit has been integrated with other units.

Integration of learning outcomes for delivery may occur within units and between units. Learning outcomes may be integrated for the whole unit and / or for several units.

Resource requirements

ASTC will ensure the following is available where applicable:

- Learner's workbook
- Facilitator's Guide
- PowerPoint
- Whiteboard
- Whiteboard markers
- DVD (where applicable)
- DVD computer/ projector
- Handouts

The Learner should have access to:

- An environment appropriate to the assessment task, that is either on job or simulated environment
- Relevant documentation, such as:
 - work policy and procedures manual
 - legislation and statutory requirements (if any)
 - a range of projects with different requirements
- Access to a range of projects with different requirements
- Access to a project management team

In order to be valid and reliable, a simulated work environment must closely resemble what occurs in a real work environment. The simulated work environment should involve a range of activities that reflect real work experience. For an outline of factors that would indicate an appropriate simulated work environment, refer to the Assessment Guideline within the relevant Training Package.

Pathway to competence

The most important thing to remember about a Training Package is that the competency standards act as the benchmarks.

In order to receive a qualification you must demonstrate that they can do the things described in the competency standards and apply the knowledge listed in the competency standards.

Training may not always play a part. For example, if you can already do something competently, why be trained to do it again? If you can prove that you can do it, you can receive credit for that unit of competency.

Somebody else, however, might need to undergo training or practice in the workplace before they are able to demonstrate that they can do the same thing.

Overview of the assessment process

The competency-based assessment approach focuses on the development of competencies through workplace-based activities in addition to structured or unstructured training and learning. The assessment recognises the application of skills, knowledge and attitudes under workplace conditions to achieve the outcome specified in the competency standards. This means that individuals can have their competencies assessed and recognised regardless of whether or not the competencies were achieved through recognised formal training or education.

Credentials can be granted on the basis of an assessment of the individual's competency against the endorsed Training Package industry competency standards.

Competency-based assessment

Competency-based assessment is the process of judging evidence of competence submitted by you to determine your current competency against the Training Package industry standards. Assessment decisions are judgments of whether or not the evidence presented is sufficient to demonstrate that you have met these standards.

The assessment process will focus upon how you apply skills, knowledge and attitudes in the workplace (or conditions as close as possible to workplace requirements) to achieve the outcomes described in the standards.

Effective competency standards and assessment provide many benefits to both employers and employees. These benefits include:

- clearer understanding of job roles and responsibilities
- greater consistency in work output
- increased productivity and quality of service
- improved team motivation
- information on current skill base and training needs to assist in developing individual and company training plans

Assessor's qualifications

To maintain quality of the assessment process, individual assessors, teams or panels of assessors must:

- have the necessary training and assessment competencies as determined by the National Skills Council or its successors, and
- have the relevant vocational competencies at least to the level being delivered or assessed, and
- can demonstrate current industry skills directly relevant to the training/assessment being undertaken and
- continue to develop their VET knowledge and skills as well as their industry currency and trainer/assessor competence
- be deemed competent in the program (Training Package) units they are assessing

In addition, the individual assessor, team or panel will be directly responsible to ASTC, which has employed them as an assessor. ASTC will itself have quality assurance mechanisms built into our registration processes with the ASQA to ensure the quality of the assessment services we provide.

Assessment appeal – refer CLIENT COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS – Assessment appeals section of this manual

Evaluation and Audit of Assessment Process

As part of the registered training provider process, ASTC will evaluate the assessment process to ensure validity, reliability, flexibility and fairness. The process will be monitored, reviewed and evaluated to ensure consistency in the interpretation of the evidence, that national competency standards are current, and that the assessment instruments keep pace with the relevant industry trends and requirements.

Feedback from the evaluation sheets of the Learner, assessor and employer (where applicable) on the assessment process will be used in the evaluation process. It is expected that a full system audit will be conducted at least annually.

Learner's guidelines for assessment process

For the assessment to be satisfactory, it is essential that it is a collaborative process between the assessor, employer/supervisor (where applicable) and you.

Evidence of competence gathered

Evidence is proof provided by you that you can satisfy the requirements of the performance criteria to the level stipulated by the competency standard. Based on the proof you have provided, which satisfies the standard, the assessor is able to determine competence.

The evidence you provide to the assessor must cover the broad range of skills and knowledge required to satisfy the unit of competency. If you are a Learner, your employer/supervisor may assist you in gathering evidence of your performance to present to the assessor.

Providing evidence is not simply a matter of gathering as much evidence as possible and leaving it to the assessor to sort out. You must provide explanations to demonstrate how the evidence is relevant to the competency and why the specific examples have been included.

Assessment criteria

All our assessments will provide for learners to be informed of the context and purpose of the assessment and the assessment process.

This will include information regarding assessment methods, alternative assessment methods if required to accommodate special needs or circumstances, information will also be included at the start of each unit or course as to the assessment processes, number of assessments, and types of assessment of each assessment.

Assessment guidelines

These Assessment Guidelines provide the endorsed framework for assessment of the units of competency for programs delivered pursuant to a Training Package. The Guidelines are designed to ensure that assessment activities are consistent with the Australian Quality Framework Standards for Registered Training Organisations and that the assessment processes and outcomes are valid, reliable, flexible and fair. Assessments against the competency standards in this Training Package must be carried out in accordance with these endorsed guidelines.

Assessment methods

The following process describes ASTC's process for conducting assessments for this program which were determined as a result of our customisation procedure.

Assessment tools

The assessment tools are:

- Assessment activities in the workbook (AT1)
- Knowledge test : written/oral questions (AT2)
- Project(s) (AT3)
- Reflection Journal (AT3)
- Supervisor/third party or assessor demonstration report (AT4)

Assessment tool 1 (AT1): Assessment activities

Assessment activities are designed to enable assessment against the performance criteria or a group of performance criteria within each element of a unit.

In general, the assessment activities might consist of:

- questions assessing knowledge
- demonstration of skills
- case studies
- practical activities - role plays
- work book activities

Responses to the assessment activities might be drawn from:

- the theory/information contained in this resource
- additional reading and research
- supplementary materials provided by the trainer/assessor
- practical experience

The Learner should complete the assessment activities as directed by the assessor. This may involve recording responses in the workbook or providing responses in a different format, e.g. in a word processed document.

Feedback

The assessment activities become part of a formative assessment. ASTC and its trainers/assessors have processes in place to provide feedback and reinforcement to Learners as they progress through the activities and assessment processes.

Assessment tool 2 (AT2): Written/oral questions

Written/ oral questions are designed to enable assessment of the required knowledge. Where appropriate they may also enable assessment of elements and performance criteria

As with assessment activities responses might be drawn from:

- the theory/ information contained in this resource
- additional reading and research
- supplementary materials provided by the trainer/assessor
- practical experience

As with assessment activities, the Learner should present responses as directed by the assessor.

The trainer/ assessor will consider each activity in the context of the specific industry sector and/or organisation and make adjustments or contextualise as necessary. Access and equity issues are also be considered.

Assessment tool 3 (AT3): Project(s)

Project(s):

Project(s) are designed to enable holistic assessment of the unit of competency if possible. The trainer/ assessor considers each project in the context of the specific industry sector and /or organisation and may make adjustments or contextualise as necessary.

Access and equity issues are considered. Additional projects may also be required.

Project Guidelines:

- Always read the following project guidelines carefully

- Make reference to workplace documents, policy and procedure, and reports and use your Learner guide, magazines, industry magazines, brochures, periodicals, books, scholarly publications, etc. to assist you to find and to obtain information about the relevant project criteria, but you are not limited to these.
- Make sure, that you keep accurate records on all sources of information so that you can document your sources with accurate in-text citations and in the reference section at the end of your project.
- You may be expected to work in a group or by yourself and provide complete minutes of the meetings and discussion notes for the assessment task project.

Instructions on writing the project and advice

- You should submit your project information in the following format:
- Answer each and every criteria/question.
- Support your submission by referring to workplace documentation and other source material
- Provide complete information about any legislations being explained and used.
- Do not assume that the trainer understands everything.

Assessment tool 4 (AT4): Supervisor/ third party or assessor demonstration report

Where the Learner is in employment this report should be completed by the Learner's supervisor, an appropriate third party or the assessor.

The trainer/assessor will ensure that the supervisor/third party/assessor understands that they must confirm they have observed the Learner performing the tasks associated with the elements, performance criteria, critical aspects for assessment and required skills in an efficient manner consistently and over a period of time. The supervisor/ third party/assessor also needs to record the context in which the Learner was observed and detailed any evidence that has been provided.

Where the Learner is not in employment and where this resource is used in face-to-face delivery or distance mode, assessors may use this tool to record any simulated demonstrations they have observed that provide evidence the Learner can perform the tasks associated with the elements, performance criteria, critical aspects for assessment and required skills in an efficient manner.

Other assessment activities

Other assessment activities determined by an assessor could include any of the range of assessment activities listed as examples appropriate for the unit under method of assessment in the unit information section of this Learner guide e.g. provision of portfolio of evidence

ASTC team members are available, to discuss and provide limited professional advice as to the outcomes of the assessment process and guidance on future options.

All assessment tasks must consider any language and literacy issues, cultural issues or any other individual needs related to the assessment.

Re-assessment is available on appeal see further details in the appeal process section.

Training and assessment standards

All training and assessments conducted by us will be by trainers and assessors who:

- (a) have the necessary training and assessment competencies as determined by the National Skills Council or its successors, and
- (b) have the relevant vocational competencies at least to the level being delivered or assessed, and
- (c) can demonstrate current industry skills directly relevant to the training/assessment being undertaken and
- (d) continue to develop their VET knowledge and skills as well as their industry currency and trainer/assessor competence

Assessment will meet all of the National Assessment Principles (including Recognition for Prior Learning and Credit Transfer). Adequate facilities, equipment and training materials will be utilized to ensure the training environment is conducive to the success of Learners.

All of our assessments within our RTO will lead to the issuing of a statement of attainment or to the issuing of a qualification under the AQF where a person is assessed as competent against the National Endorsed units of competency in the applicable training package.

All of our Assessments will be:

- Valid - Assessment methods will be valid, that is, they will assess what they claim to assess,

- Reliable - Assessment procedures must be reliable, that is, they must result in consistent interpretation of evidence from the Learner and from context to context,
- Fair - Assessment procedures will be fair, so as not disadvantage any Learners. Assessment procedures will:
 - be equitable, culturally and linguistically appropriate,
 - involve procedures in which criteria for judging performance are made clear to all Learners,
 - employ a participatory approach,
 - provide for Learners to undertake assessments at appropriate times and where required in appropriate locations.
- Flexible - Assessment procedures will be flexible, that is, they should involve a variety of methods that depend on the circumstances surrounding the assessment,

We will achieve this through:

- careful design of the assessments,
- validation and moderation of the assessment materials conducted in our annual review,
- an understanding of the definition and practical application of the above definitions.

Assessments for qualifications are competency based, meaning you are assessed against the unit of competency & requirements.

Results

A Learner IS DEEMED EITHER SATISFACTORY OR NOT YET SATISFACTORY FOR A UNIT ASSESSMENT:

SATISFACTORY (S)

After each assessment your Competency Record Book should be completed and signed by you and the assessor. In the case where the assessment occurs over time and on different occasions, you should receive constructive feedback after each occasion from the assessor and your Competency Record Book should be updated.

NOT YET SATISFACTORY (NYS)

If you have provided insufficient evidence for the unit of competency, the assessor should explain why the evidence provided does not show that you fully possess the competency against the standards and provide advice on further evidence to be provided. It is up to you to provide further evidence. Further evidence can be in the form of:

- providing additional documents or information
- attending further training or education programs
- further work experience

When you feel you are ready, you can be reassessed. You will not have to do the whole assessment again. You will only be re-assessed in those areas where the assessor requires more evidence. If, after the reassessment, you are deemed 'Satisfactory', the process already outlined above for deemed competent should be followed.

HOW MANY TIMES CAN I APPLY FOR ASSESSMENT?

There are no restrictions on the number of times you may seek reassessment. However, if competency is not indicated after the second attempt, you should seek advice from your assessor and employer/supervisor (where applicable) about how to improve your performance.

WHAT IF I DO NOT AGREE WITH THE RESULT?

There is a process available that allows for a review of your evidence. If you do not agree with the result you should discuss this first with your assessor and contact should be made with ASTC. ASTC has appeal procedures instituted that you should follow. Please refer to Appeals & Complaints section on our website.

HOW DO I TURN MY ASSESSED COMPETENCIES INTO A CREDENTIAL?

When you have been deemed competent in the prescribed set of units for a credential, your assessor will provide ASTC with your assessment results. ASTC will issue all AQF qualifications and statements of attainment within 14 days of the training program completion. The details of the prescribed units for a credential can be obtained from the assessor, ASTC, your training plan or the relevant Training Package (refer training.gov.au)

HOW DO I KNOW WHAT TRAINING I HAVE COMPLETED OR HAVE YET TO COMPLETE?

This can be ascertained in the following ways:

You are able to ring ASTC on Ph: 1300 008 880 or the "Contact Us" located in the top right tab on our web home page (www.thesalesmasters.com) and receive a copy of completed competencies which will be emailed to you within 2 working days.

- Written request to ASTC
- Refer to your Training Plan

Handing in assessments

At ASTC we appreciate and respect the amount of time and effort that goes into assessments. These documents are a critical part of gaining a qualification and as such we take extra care of all assessment materials. Be aware however that besides the best of intentions, accidents can and do happen and so Learners should always take extra care to keep copies of all assessments.

Face-to-face Learning

In the case of face-to-face (classroom) delivery, an assessment completed on or before the date should be handed to the relevant Trainer in class, with the assessment cover sheet completed and the Learner Declaration signed.

Alternatively assessments may be handed in at the Administration Office at Rosebery. They should be placed in an A4 envelope with the following written clearly on the outside:

- "Learner Assessment".
- Qualification number and name, eg BSB51107 – Diploma of Management.
- Unit Number and Name, eg BSBMGT516C – Facilitate continuous improvement.
- Your name.
- The date.
- Your phone number.

The Administration Office will pass it on to the Trainer/Assessor. Please note that ASTC assumes no responsibility for assessments that have not been personally handed directly either to the Trainer or an employee at the Administration Office – please do not leave envelopes at reception.

Correspondence (Distance) Learning

Instructions for return post of assessments will be provided with the learning materials. Whilst ASTC takes all due care, the Administration Office cannot take responsibility for loss of assessments in the mail. Accordingly, Learners are advised to keep a photocopy of all work and mail using Express Post or Certified mail for added security.

Remember:

It is always a good idea to have a copy of your work! All Learners are advised in the strongest possible terms to keep copies of all assessments in the unlikely event they are misplaced or destroyed. Be aware that assessments have gone missing in the mail.

CPP30316– Certificate III in Cleaning Operations

What is the Australian Qualifications Framework?

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) establishes the quality of Australian qualifications. It is the national policy for regulated qualifications in the Australian education and training system and incorporates the quality assured qualifications from each education and training sector into a single comprehensive national qualifications framework.

AQF levels and the AQF levels criteria are an indication of the relative complexity and/or depth of achievement and the autonomy required to demonstrate that achievement. AQF level 1 has the lowest complexity and AQF level 10 has the highest complexity.

The AQF level summaries are statements of the typical achievement of graduates who have been awarded a qualification at a certain level in the AQF.

- Level 1 – Certificate I
- Level 2 – Certificate II
- Level 3 – Certificate III
- Level 4 – Certificate IV
- Level 5 – Diploma

Commencement, Completion and Census Dates

The Commencement Date, Census Date and Completion Date for your Certificate IV will vary depending upon the dates you enrolled with ASTC.

We aim to start your Commencement Date as close as possible to the date you receive your first Unit of material for your Diploma.

For an accurate and specific list of these dates please refer to your Commonwealth Assistance Notice (CAN) as issued by ASTC administration.

Alternatively, please call ASTC on (02) 9700 9333 and ask to speak to one of our helpful administration team

Units of Competency

Below is detailed each of the individual Units of Competency in this qualification.

CPPCLO3003 - Clean using safe work practices

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to undertake cleaning tasks safely and according to company health and safety policies and procedures and legislative requirements. The unit covers assessing the work environment for hazards and ensuring risks are controlled; checking and maintaining equipment and materials, including storing and handling hazardous chemicals; safely handling equipment; and following required processes in the event of a health and safety incident in the workplace.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- transporting equipment and cleaning products to the area to be cleaned
- completing cleaning tasks according to client and company requirements using cleaning equipment and products selected and prepared according to job requirements
- returning equipment and materials to cleaning storage area.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- identify site hazards and control risks before commencing the task
- use safe and efficient cleaning methods
- correctly and safely handle waste, including contaminated materials.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- company policies and procedures for applying work health and safety (WHS) practices while cleaning, including:
- assessing and reporting hazards in the workplace
- incident reporting
- selecting and using personal protective equipment (PPE) required for the cleaning task
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
- emergency chemical spill control measures
- routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
- safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to safety data sheets (SDS)
- key requirements of legislation, regulations and codes of practice relating to cleaning safely at heights
- processes for safely handling and disposing of waste, including:
- chemicals past their expiry date

- obsolete equipment
- packaging
- used containers
- used or contaminated PPE
- used or unused chemicals.

CPPCLO3005 - Confirm and apply privacy and security requirements for cleaning work

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to confirm and apply personal and property security procedures when cleaning a work site, and to maintain client privacy. It also involves obtaining and securing property access information and equipment, and confirming and applying procedures when security risks are evident. It covers establishing which areas of the work site are not to be accessed, and maintaining privacy of information obtained in the course of providing cleaning services.

The unit supports the work of cleaners commencing at a new work site. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also confirm and apply privacy and security procedures for two different work sites to be applied when cleaning.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- implement agreed procedures for accessing and securing the work site
- assess work site for signs of security risks or breaches
- implement agreed procedures for responding to and reporting security risks and breaches.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- processes for obtaining and confirming client details
- procedures for using access passes and keys for different client sites
- company policy or code of conduct in relation to privacy and confidentiality of client information
- workplace procedures, including reporting requirements for:
 - security risks and breaches
 - personal security risks and incidents.

CPPCLO3019 - Remove waste and recyclable materials

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to identify waste and recyclable materials to be removed, assess hazards associated with their removal, remove waste collected or created through the cleaning process, and safely transfer it to a dedicated waste disposal point for collection using required equipment and methods. Waste collection is conducted as part of a regular cleaning routine, usually on a daily basis and can include a range of materials, such as chemicals, contaminated materials and general waste. The unit also covers identifying recyclable materials and transferring them to required collection points. Recyclable materials are those that may be reused or made into another product.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also use safe and efficient methods to remove waste at three different cleaning sites. Across all three sites they must remove both of the following types of waste:

- general
- contaminated and hazardous biological waste.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- identify the different waste types and correct methods for dealing with each, including health and safety requirements
- identify site hazards and control risks before handling waste
- select and prepare cleaning equipment and chemicals required for the task
- identify items for recycling at each site and arrange for their transfer
- clean the rubbish bins and surrounds.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- environmental requirements relating to removing waste and recyclable materials, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to using and disposing of chemicals
 - key requirements of legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to removing waste and recyclable materials, including:
 - AS/NZ 3831 Waste management – Glossary of terms
 - industry advisory standards and codes, such as dangerous goods codes
 - processes for safely handling and treating waste, including:
 - recyclable materials
 - used containers
 - used or contaminated personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - used or unused chemicals
 - safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - working according to safety data sheets (SDS)
 - waste transfer procedures, including:
 - location of disposal units
 - location of waste pick-up equipment
 - use of waste handling equipment
 - use of waste storage receptacles
 - selection and use of bin liners.

CPPCLO3035 - Maintain cleaning storage areas

Application of the Unit

This unit describes the performance outcomes, skills and knowledge required to use effective communication techniques with colleagues and customers from diverse backgrounds, and to complete work as part of a team.

It applies to individuals working in frontline roles in a diverse range of industry sectors and business contexts. They operate under the supervision and guidance from others, and within established organisational policies and procedures.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this unit at the time of publication.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also maintain one of the following cleaning storage areas:

- cleaners' room located at client work site
- in-vehicular cleaning storage facility used to transport cleaning equipment from site to site.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- maintain cleaning storage area and stock levels, ensuring correct storage of equipment, chemicals and consumables required for work site and client requirements
- maintain the security and accessibility of storage area
- maintain accurate labelling of chemicals
- maintain legible stock control records and documentation
- access each of the following documentation:
 - accident and incident reporting documentation
 - job sheets
 - health and safety control procedures, forms and documentation
 - safety data sheets (SDS).

In doing the above work, the person must also implement correct emergency response procedures in the event of a chemical spillage on site or inside the cleaning storage area, including:

- undertaking correct clean-up procedures, including erecting required signs and barricades
- accurately and legibly completing required incident reporting documentation.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- application and operation of on-site communication tools, including:
 - mobile telephones
 - noticeboards
 - two-way radios
 - whiteboards
- documentation requirements in the event of an incident or accident
- environmental requirements relating to maintaining cleaning storage areas, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to maintaining cleaning storage areas
- use of low-energy cleaning methods
- use of low-moisture cleaning methods
- use of low water-use equipment and water-efficient cleaning methods
- use of non-chemical cleaning methods
- key requirements of legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to maintaining cleaning storage areas, including:

- health and safety legislation
- industry advisory standards and codes, such as dangerous goods codes
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
- emergency chemical spill control measures
- routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
- safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to SDS
- procedures for safe treatment and handling of the following waste:
- chemicals past their expiry date
- obsolete equipment
- packaging
- used containers
- used or contaminated personal protective equipment (PPE)
- used or unused chemicals
- processes for inventory and stock control and ordering replenishment stock
- manufacturer specifications for equipment and chemicals being used.

CPPCMN3006 - Provide effective client service

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to establish client relationships, and identify and meet client needs through the delivery of services or by providing information and advice on products and services.

The unit supports those who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of work sites, and to new or repeat client encounters, either on company or client premises.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- clarifying client needs and expectations and communicating the features and benefits of one product or service to each client verbally or in writing
- confirming and coordinating human resource requirements for the task
- responding verbally or in writing to one question from each client
- confirming the services to be provided to the client verbally or in writing, including service costs and timelines for service provision
- delivering agreed service to client within agreed timelines
- responding accurately and positively to one client complaint according to company's complaints handling procedures.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- communication techniques for establishing and building client rapport
- company expectations for maintaining personal presentation standards, including:
 - cleanliness and tidiness of own work space
 - codes of conduct
 - dress code

- key requirements of consumer protection legislation, regulations and codes of practice relating to providing client service, including:
 - Competition and Consumer Act
 - Privacy Act
- processes for accessing company products and services, including accessing:
 - company databases
 - manufacturer specifications and information
 - product brochures
- key features of effective negotiation processes and techniques
- range of company products and services available, including their features and benefits, and ways to communicate them to different clients.

CPPCLO3001 - Maintain hard floor surfaces

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to clean and maintain hard floor surfaces, selecting the required equipment, chemicals and methods in order to perform the task safely and efficiently.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies to both manual and mechanical methods of cleaning hard floor surfaces in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

- A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.
- The person must also:
- clean and maintain two of the following different hard floor surfaces:
 - brick
 - ceramic tiles
 - concrete
 - cork
 - marble
 - parquetry
 - pavers
 - polished or unpolished wood
 - proprietary flooring
 - quarry tiles
 - rubber
 - slate
 - terrazzo
 - vinyl
- use two of the following different cleaning methods when cleaning the above surfaces:
 - air blowing
 - automatic floor scrubbing
 - dry buffing
 - dust mopping and sweeping
 - low-water cleaning methods, such as using microfibre cleaning products
 - scrubbing
 - spray buffing
 - wet mopping.
- In doing the above work, the person must:
 - identify site hazards and control risks before commencing the task
 - identify type and condition of hard floor surface
 - select cleaning equipment and chemicals required for task
 - correctly and safely handle waste, including contaminated materials
 - comply with company, legislative and regulatory requirements relating to the cleaning work
 - use safe and efficient cleaning methods.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- application methods for maintaining hard floor surfaces using microfibre cleaning techniques, including using:
- cloth and water in spray bottle to spot clean low-level stains
- damp mops for hard floor surface cleaning and finishing
- dry mopping techniques
- different cleaning chemicals and equipment for hard floor surfaces

- environmental requirements relating to maintaining hard floor surfaces, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to using and disposing of cleaning chemicals
 - hazardous materials handling
 - use of low-energy cleaning methods
 - use of low-moisture cleaning methods
 - use of low water-use equipment and other water-efficient cleaning methods
 - use of non-chemical cleaning methods
 - methods for cleaning and maintaining microfibre cloths and mops, including:
 - air drying for optimal performance
 - avoiding fabric softeners
 - regular hand or machine washing in hot soapy water
 - removing stains with hot water and washing liquid
 - washing products on their own to avoid static transfer of lint
- key requirements of legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to maintaining hard floor surfaces, including:
 - quality assurance and certification requirements
 - industry advisory standards and codes, such as dangerous goods codes
- processes for safely handling and disposing of waste, including:
 - chemicals past their expiry date
 - litter
 - obsolete equipment
 - sweeping detritus
 - used containers
 - used or contaminated personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - used or unused chemicals
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - safe methods for distilling chemicals
 - working according to safety data sheets (SDS)
- types and characteristics of different hard floor surfaces and required cleaning methods for each type.

CPPCLO3007 - Remove carpet stains

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to identify the nature of carpet stains and remove the stains using selected stain removal techniques, chemicals and equipment. The selection of required equipment, chemicals and methods is essential for performing the task safely and efficiently.

The unit supports carpet cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites. Removing stains can occur as a separate task or in conjunction with other cleaning tasks, such as daily vacuuming, extraction and general carpet cleaning.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also remove three different stains from each of the following types of carpet:

- one natural fibre carpet, selected from:
 - organic (plant) fibres, such as cotton and sisal
 - wool
- one synthetic fibre carpet, selected from:
 - acrylic
 - nylon
 - polyester.

Stain types to be removed during above work, must include three of the following:

- beverage
- candle wax
- chewing gum
- food
- grease
- heavy dirt build-up
- hospital waste
- industrial and chemical waste
- lipstick
- nail polish
- oil
- plant stains
- shoe polish
- tar.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- identify site hazards and control risks before commencing the task
- identify type and characteristics of each carpet and its carpet fibres
- identify type of stain and cleaning techniques, cleaning equipment and chemicals required for the task
- correctly and safely handle waste.

Knowledge Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- carpet characteristics, including:
 - carpet construction
 - features of fibres
- characteristics of different carpet stains and process for cleaning them according to type, duration of stain, and whether previous treatments and chemicals have been applied
- range and application of cleaning equipment and chemicals required to remove carpet stains
- environmental requirements relating to removing stains from carpets, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to using and disposing of carpet cleaning chemicals

- hazardous materials handling
- use of low-energy carpet-cleaning methods
- use of low-moisture carpet-cleaning methods
- use of low water-use equipment and other water-efficient cleaning methods
- use of non-chemical carpet-cleaning methods
- regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to carpet cleaning, including AS/NZS 3733 Textile floor coverings – Cleaning maintenance of residential and commercial carpeting
- processes for safely handling and disposing of waste, including:
 - chemicals past their expiry date
 - litter
 - machine exhaust emissions
 - obsolete equipment
 - used containers
 - used or contaminated personal protective equipment (PPE)
 - used or unused chemicals
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to safety data sheets (SDS).

CPPCLO3009 - Clean glass surfaces

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to clean glass surfaces, including mirrors, doors and windows, from the ground using extension poles to aid access if required. The unit covers assessing the extent of the cleaning task and selecting required equipment, chemicals and methods. All work is conducted according to job, health and safety, and company requirements.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies to ordinary or frosted glass or mirrors as well as to textured glass surfaces in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also clean three different glass surfaces, including:

- one ordinary glass (including mirror) or frosted glass surface measuring at least 1.5 metres in height or length, in which the work must involve:
 - selecting and using required cleaning equipment, including a squeegee
 - spot cleaning the glass
 - removing smears and drips from the glass and surrounding surfaces and floor
- one textured glass surface, in which the work must involve:
 - selecting and using required cleaning equipment
 - spot cleaning the glass
 - conducting full clean of the glass to remove all soil
 - removing smears and drips from the glass and surrounding surfaces and floor
- one ordinary frosted or textured glass surface, in which the work must involve:
 - removing three different inorganic soils from the glass surface using required cleaning techniques, one of which must require use of the scraping technique
 - selecting and using required cleaning equipment.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- identify and plan for work site hazards
- identify types and characteristics of glass surfaces and select cleaning equipment and chemicals required for the task
- use safe and efficient cleaning techniques
- correctly and safely handle waste, including contaminated materials.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- types of glass surfaces, their characteristics and required cleaning methods
- types and characteristics of organic and inorganic soils and required cleaning chemicals, equipment and methods of treatment
- application methods for cleaning glass using microfibre products, including using:
 - cloth and water in spray bottle to spot clean low-level stains
 - damp mops and cloths for surface cleaning and finishing
 - dry mopping techniques
- environmental requirements relating to cleaning glass surfaces, including:

CPPCLO3013 - Clean window coverings

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to assess the condition of blinds, curtains, screens and associated fixtures, and select required equipment, chemicals and methods to remove dirt and grime from a range of window coverings. The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies to a range of window coverings, including blinds, curtains and screens in commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also clean one fixed awning and:

- two of the following blinds:
 - holland blinds
 - roman blinds
 - venetian blinds
 - vertical blinds
- two of the following curtains:
 - lined curtains
 - unlined curtains
 - pelmet systems
- two of the following screens:
 - flywire screens
 - securing screens
 - shutter screens.

In doing the above work, the person must select and prepare required cleaning chemicals to clean each window covering. By the end of the whole task, the person must have removed three of the following soil types:

- adhered soil
- cobwebs
- dust
- mould and mildew
- nicotine stains
- oil
- paint
- road grime.

In doing the above work, the person must demonstrate six of the following cleaning techniques:

- air blowing
- dusting
- low-water cleaning methods, such as using microfibre cleaning products
- pressure washing
- rinsing
- scrubbing
- spot cleaning
- water extraction
- wiping.

During the above work, the person must also:

- identify type and characteristics of window coverings and fixtures
- select and prepare cleaning equipment, including personal protective equipment (PPE)
- select and apply safe and efficient cleaning methods
- remove, clean and refit window coverings according to specified requirements.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- environmental requirements relating to the use of chemicals and cleaning equipment when cleaning window coverings, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - low-energy cleaning methods
 - low environmental impact chemicals
 - low-moisture cleaning methods
 - low water-use equipment and water-efficient cleaning methods
 - non-chemical cleaning methods
- types of different window covering surfaces and their suitability for either wet or dry cleaning
- range of techniques and methods to clean window coverings, including:
 - basic wash-down
 - full immersion wash
 - spot cleaning
- cleaning chemicals and equipment suitable for cleaning window coverings, and their application for different window covering surfaces
- cleaning techniques for safely removing different soil types from different window coverings
- key requirements of legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to cleaning window coverings
- processes for safely handling and disposing of waste, including:
 - chemicals past their expiry date
 - obsolete equipment
 - packaging
 - used containers
 - used or contaminated PPE
 - used or unused chemicals
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to safety data sheets (SDS)
- types of window coverings and fixtures, their characteristics and methods of operation.

CPPCLO3014 - Maintain clean-room environments

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to ensure clean-room environments housing electronic and other sensitive equipment are cleaned and maintained to avoid dust and moisture entering equipment and cabling. It covers assessing the extent of the cleaning task and selecting and using the equipment, chemicals and methods required for the task.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites. Clean rooms may be used for specialised computer installations, computer equipment repairs, installation of PABX units, manufacturing electronic components, laboratories and sterile rooms for food manufacturing. Some clean rooms may be pressurised to reduce the amount of dust entering the room.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also maintain each of the following surfaces in two different clean-room environments:

- benchtops and work stations
- cabling
- ceilings
- equipment casings
- hard floor surfaces
- soft floor surfaces, such as special dust-catching carpets.

In doing the above work, the person must clean four of the following fittings in each clean room:

- cameras
- furniture
- glass
- lights
- monitors
- skylights
- smoke detectors
- sprinkler systems
- vents and grilles.

During the above work, the person must also:

- identify site hazards and control risks before commencing the task
- select cleaning equipment and chemicals required for the task
- use safe and efficient cleaning methods.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- cleaning chemicals and equipment suitable for using with sensitive equipment
- cleaning techniques for clean-room environments, including:
 - buffing
 - damp mopping
 - dust mopping

- low-water cleaning methods using microfibre cleaning products
- spot cleaning
- steam cleaning
- surface wiping with lint-free or anti-static cloths
- vacuuming with crevice tool on hard-to-access surfaces
- correct procedures for handling and disposing of:
 - chemicals
 - contaminated and toxic waste
- environmental requirements when maintaining clean-room environments, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to maintaining clean-room environments
 - use of low-energy cleaning methods
 - use of low-moisture cleaning methods
 - use of low water-use equipment and water-efficient cleaning methods
 - use of non-chemical cleaning methods
 - impact of dust, moisture, electrical current and magnetic fields on sensitive electronic equipment
- key requirements of legislation, regulations, codes of practice and industry advisory standards relating to maintaining a clean-room environment
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to safety data sheets (SDS).

CPPCLO3017 - Clean wet areas

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to clean wet areas, including bathrooms, toilets, change rooms and laundries and their associated fixtures and fittings, so that they are free from soil, odour and hazards. The unit covers assessing the extent of cleaning required; selecting required equipment, chemicals and methods; and performing the cleaning task safely and efficiently.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies in a range of commercial and residential work sites.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also clean three of the following wet areas, and their fixtures and fittings:

- bathroom
- change rooms
- laundry
- shower facilities
- toilet.

During the above work, the person must select and use three of the following cleaning techniques:

- buffing
- cobwebbing
- dusting
- hosing
- mopping
- polishing
- pre-spraying
- scrubbing
- spot cleaning
- sweeping
- wet wiping.

During the above work, the person must also:

- identify site hazards and control risks before commencing task
- identify fittings, surfaces and soil types found in wet areas
- select and prepare cleaning equipment and chemicals required for the task
- use safe and efficient cleaning methods
- correctly and safely handle waste, including contaminated materials
- replenish three of the following consumables in each wet area:
 - air fresheners
 - bin liners
 - cloth towels and tea towels
 - deodorant blocks
 - hand towels, such as cloth, rolls and sheets
 - liquid and bar soap
 - personal toiletries
 - toilet paper.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- range, application and limitation of cleaning chemicals and equipment available for wet areas
- cleaning chemicals and methods suitable for wet area surfaces, including:
 - ceramics and porcelain
 - chrome
 - concrete
 - glass
 - laminate
 - metal
 - paint
 - plastic
 - stainless steel
 - stone
 - terracotta
 - vinyl
- environmental requirements relating to cleaning wet areas, including:
 - clean-up, containment and isolation procedures
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - environmental protection agency requirements relating to using and disposing of cleaning chemicals
 - hazardous materials handling
 - use of low water-use equipment and other water-efficient cleaning methods to clean wet areas
- processes for safely handling and disposing of waste, including:
 - chemicals past their expiry date
 - contaminated waste
 - obsolete equipment
 - used cleaning cloths
 - used containers
 - used or contaminated PPE
 - used or unused chemicals
- routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals.

CPPCLO3045 - Clean high-touch surfaces

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to remove all soils and microorganisms from a range of frequently touched surfaces. It covers selecting required cleaning equipment and solutions, applying techniques to remove contaminants from the high-touch surfaces, and preventing cross-contamination.

The unit supports cleaners who work alone or in teams. It applies to removing soil from high-touch surfaces in a range of commercial and residential work sites. It also applies to non-medical contexts, such as healthcare, aged care and childcare facilities; and to public areas, such as food courts, waiting rooms, washrooms and offices. The high-touch surfaces include door handles, hand railings, dining tables, nappy change tables, desks, reception counters, computer keyboards and mice, telephones and light switches.

No licensing, legislative, regulatory, or certification requirements apply to this unit of competency at the time of endorsement.

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy the requirements of the elements, performance criteria, foundation skills and range of conditions of this unit.

The person must also clean five of the following high-touch surfaces:

- computer keyboards and mouse
- desks
- dining tables
- door handles
- hand railings
- light switches
- nappy change tables
- reception counters
- telephone receivers.

In doing the above work, the person must:

- identify site hazards and control risks before commencing cleaning tasks
- select and prepare cleaning solutions and equipment required for the task
- ensure surfaces are completely free of all soil types.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- application and limitation of different cleaning solutions
- cleaning techniques for nappy change tables
- processes for preventing cross-contamination while cleaning, including:
 - application and use of colour-coded cleaning equipment
- sequence cleaning tasks to ensure hygiene and efficiency
- maintenance and storage of cleaning equipment
- processes for maintaining personal hygiene to minimise spread of infection and germs
- safe handling techniques for working with hazardous chemicals, including:
 - emergency chemical spill control measures
 - routes of entry and potential symptoms of exposure to chemicals
 - safe methods for distilling chemicals
- working according to safety data sheets (SDS).

CPPCMN3004 - Respond to enquiries and complaints

Application of the Unit

This unit of competency specifies the outcomes required to respond effectively to client enquiries and complaints regarding company products and services. The worker needs to handle formal and informal enquiries, as well as negative feedback and complaints from clients.

The unit covers acknowledging and processing client enquiries and complaints, and communicating with clients to resolve issues. It also covers researching and documenting relevant information relating to an enquiry or complaint, which may include site visits where required; and referring the enquiry or complaint to other personnel or external organisations where appropriate.

The unit supports employees without managerial or supervisory responsibilities. Performance would usually be carried out under routine supervision, within company guidelines. It applies to workers who have significant contact with clients and who provide information on routine, well-defined services or products to clients, and deal with enquiries or complaints of a more complex nature.

Licensing, legislative, regulatory or certification requirements apply to this unit in some States. Relevant state and territory regulatory authorities should be consulted to confirm those requirements

Performance Evidence

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must satisfy all of the elements, performance criteria and foundation skills of this unit, and must deal with:

- one routine enquiry for advice or general information, or suggestion for service or product improvement
- one special enquiry requiring further research or consultation
- one routine complaint requiring investigation
- one complex complaint requiring referral to other personnel
- one matter where client needs are complex and require adaptation or a combination of products or services.

For each of the above, the person must:

- use knowledge of company procedures
- handle clients and situations with diplomacy and tact
- clarify customer enquiries and complaints using communication skills
- provide solutions or options and resolve issues within required timeframes
- record and document issues and resolution according to company requirements
- refer matters to appropriate personnel as required and according to company requirements.

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

A person demonstrating competency in this unit must demonstrate knowledge of:

- Australian standards, quality assurance and certification requirements relevant to responding to enquiries and complaints
- common industry and company service problems and solutions
- company policies and procedures for handling and documenting client complaints, including:
 - client confidentiality provisions
 - client service procedures
 - code of conduct or ethics
- company dress and presentation requirements

- quality and continuous improvement processes and standards
- work documentation and reporting procedures
- details of products and services offered by the company
- industry advisory standards and codes of practice relevant to company operation
- legislation and regulations that apply to responding to enquiries and complaints, including:
 - anti-discrimination
 - consumer protection
 - environmental protection
 - privacy
 - work health and safety
- options for solutions and responses to client enquiries and complaints, including:
 - additional service provision
 - changes in service provision
 - litigation
 - mediation
 - no action
 - payment of compensation
 - rectification
 - cancellation of services
 - client education
 - general advice
- information on products and services available, including features and benefits
- planned visits
- provision of further information
- quotations and pricing estimates
- referral to others, including specialist advisors
- standard industry disclaimers
- range of client expectations in relation to services offered by the company
- relevance of good communication and own role in processing client complaints.

HLTINF001 - Comply with infection prevention and control policies and procedures

Application of the Unit

The candidate must show evidence of the ability to complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the job role. There must be evidence that the candidate has:

- followed established organisation infection prevention and control procedures on at least 3 separate occasions
- followed established organisation infection prevention and control procedures at least once for each of the following:
 - hand hygiene and care of hand
 - use of personal protective equipment
 - handling of waste
 - enforcing clean and contaminated zones
 - limitation of contamination
 - surface cleaning

Knowledge Evidence

The candidate must be able to demonstrate essential knowledge required to effectively complete tasks outlined in elements and performance criteria of this unit, manage tasks and manage contingencies in the context of the work role. This includes knowledge of:

- established guidelines for the prevention and control of infection, including those for:
 - personal and hand hygiene:
 - how to hand wash
 - how to hand rub
 - pre-surgical hand preparation
 - clinical moments when hand hygiene should be performed with soap and water rather than alcohol-based hand rub
 - non-clinical moments for hand hygiene hand care, including guidelines on maintaining intact skin, fingernails and jewellery/watches
- use and scope of personal protective equipment guidelines for:
 - glove use
 - wearing gowns and waterproof aprons
 - wearing masks
 - wearing protective glasses
- surface cleaning:
 - cleaning procedures and their specified times
 - routine surface cleaning
 - managing a blood or body fluid spill
 - sharps handling and disposal techniques
 - reprocessing procedures for equipment
- types of additional precautions and their relevance to particular areas of work or client groups
- types of hazards in the work environment and associated risks and control measures
- chain of infection:
 - source of infectious agent
 - mode of transmission
 - susceptible host

- basis of infection, including:
- bacteria and bacterial spores
- difference between harmless microorganisms and pathogens
- difference between colonisation, infection and disease
- fungi
- viruses
- key modes of disease transmission – contact, airborne and droplet:
- paths of transmission including direct contact, aerosols and penetrating injuries
- risk of acquisition
- sources of infecting microorganisms including persons who are carriers, in the incubation phase of the disease or those who are acutely ill
- factors that increase the susceptibility to infection:
- immune status
- wounds or devices
- medications and comorbidities
- age

Training Learners will be supplied with all applicable training resources apart from any personal writing and note-taking materials they may need. eLearning Learners will be provided with all of their materials via soft-copy over the internet. Correspondence (distance) learning Learners will be mailed parcels containing their appropriate Unit workbook, all associated assessment materials and clear guidelines on how to complete their work and return it for assessment.

Assessment Guidelines

Introduction

These Assessment Guidelines provide the endorsed framework for assessment of the units of competency in the HLT Health Training Package. The Guidelines are designed to ensure that assessment activities are consistent with the Australian Qualifications Framework Standards for Registered Training Organisations and that the assessment processes and outcomes are valid, reliable, flexible and fair. Assessments against the competency standards in this Training Package must be carried out in accordance with these endorsed guidelines.

Assessment Tools for CPP30316 – Certificate III in Cleaning Operations

Assessment Tool:	Type of assessment:	What is assessed:
Activities	Formative assessment AT1	The underpinning knowledge required to undertake the tasks, as outlined in the elements and performance criteria. Formative assessments will be completed progressively as participants work through their training. Trainer / assessors will determine how and when these activities should be completed.
Questions	Summative assessment AT2	Required knowledge – evidence collected in response to the theory questions will support participants' competence with regard to the required knowledge.
Projects	Summative assessment AT3 PROJECT	Required knowledge, critical aspects for assessment and, in some cases, required skills – projects will be theoretical or practical. Evidence collected in response to the project questions and activities will support the judgement of competence.

Resources required to undertake this assessment
Learners must have access to these resources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Copies of the activities, questions, projects nominated by the trainer / assessor (Learner Guide and Learner Workbook and Assessments) ▪ Relevant organisational policies, protocols and procedural documents to draw from ▪ An appropriate workplace, simulated workplace or prior experience in the workplace ▪ Resources normally used in the workplace
Assessment instructions
Learners should respond to the AT1 and AT2 assessments either verbally or in writing, as agreed with the facilitator/assessor. All written responses should be recorded in the spaces provided (if more space is required attach additional pages) or alternatively submitted in a word document. If learners answer verbally, the facilitator/assessor is to record their answers in detail. Learners should also undertake observable tasks that provide evidence of performance AT3 & AT4. If workplace observation is to take place under the AT3 then the Assessor must provide instruction to learners on what is expected during observation, and arrange a suitable time and location for demonstration of these skills. Learners must fully understand what they are required to do to for assessment, including being advised of the assessment criteria for each of the agreed assessment tasks to be completed then sign the declaration. A learner is not to sign the declaration unless they have a clear understanding of what is expected from them.
