LLN assessment is divided into three parts

- Part 1- Literacy Assessment , in which the students need to be provided with Electrical Trades Course ETC-Literacy Workbook that they can read at least one week before the test in which the question will be based on the book. Their reading and writing skills are to be assessed. The workbook is based on CPCCCM1014A Workplace Communication in Construction but we are not assessing the competency for the unit but for their communication skills in reading and writing which are the aspect of literacy and the contents in the book are useful for them in workplace orientation as well.

- Part 2- Numeracy Assessment, in which the students will be provided with ETC Numeracy Training that focus on mathematical calculations .Appropriate tutoring can also be provided to the students who need the numeracy skills.

- Part 3- Literacy and Numeracy Assessment that is aligned with Australian Apprentice LLN Assessment in Electrical and Electronics which is designed by Australian Federal Education Department.

- The aim of LLN Assessment is to find out the LLN needs of the students to provide appropriate assistance rather than determining their competencies, the tests and resources are planned for providing such service.

For the students whose LLN to be assessed before enrolment, part 3 can be extracted and used.

For the students who are provided with LLN tutoring, part 1 and 2 can be extracted and used.

According to Government regulations, LLN Test must be sit by any students who will do Electrical Trades Courses .

This is Australian Federal Government site for occupation specific LLN Test

<https://www.apprenticeships.gov.au/apprentices/how-to-find-and-prepare-for-an-apprenticeship/check-your-literacy-and-numeracy-skills>

For electrical , the following is test site
